

Dear Mother,

It is with much pleasure that I am able to inform you of my good health, whereabouts and I am at our old camp where we have been for so long since the great battle of Murfreesboro. I am well and still driving an ambulance.

It is some time since I have heard from you. But I hope this will meet you in good health, spirits & Here is a song I send that is founded upon facts And when you read it just imagine it was your son Morton that was there

I hear from Mary (Spate ?) quite often now she and Eddy are well as usual & And I want you to write to me and tel me all about your self Mary & Eddy also And I want you to write and tel me how you and Mary came to break up house keeping I want you to tel me all the particulars no keep any thing back.

And I will bring my letter to a close for I dont think of any thing of importance to write, and I remain your affectionate son

Morton Long

Near Mansfield Nov 4th / 63

Dear Mother,

It is with much pleasure that I am able to inform you of my good health, whereabouts & I am at our old camp where we have been so long since the great battle of Mansfield, I am well and still driving an ambulance.

It is some time since I have heard from you. But I hope this will meet you in good health & spirits &

Here is a song I send that is founded upon facts - And when you read it just imagine it was your son Boston that was there

I hear from Mary quite often now she and Eddy are well as usual & and I want you to write to me and let me all about your self Mary & Eddy also And I want you to write and tell me how you and Mary come to break up house keeping I want you to tell me all the particulars not keep anything back.

and I will bring my letter to a close for I don't think of any thing of importance to write, and I remain your affectionate son

"On Picket Guard at Stone's River"
by Morton Long

Tis midnight and the twinkling stars
Shine brightly from on high
And not a cloud is shadowing now,
The war like Southern sky,
I am stationed in a cedar grove
The picket post to stand
And listening for the stealthy tread
Of traitors close at hand

Chorus

Now many thousands gone to rest
We know that they are free
Their bodies smouldering in the dust
Over the plains of Tennessee

I see their burning campfires now
Upon the distant hill
And hear the screech owl's dismal cry
And feel more lonely still
I hear the groans of wounded men
That still lie on the field
And many more my eyes can see
With life forever sealed

And others far through this dismal night
These mournfull sounds arise
And many a patriot finds a grave
Beneath this Southern Sky
The light of day doth now appear
All beautiful and bright
I see the movements of our troops
Tis to renew the fight.

Our picket is now engaged
With the rebel skirmishes
And now the order comes to us
Fall on your reserves
Oh! Yonder comes the rebel line
They're marching on our flank
Stand fast brave brave our Gen'ral cues
We'll soon thin out their ranks.

Our battery stationed on the right,
The Chicago Board of Trade,
Now opens fire on their ranks
And with them havoc made
And now the battle rages on
In all it horrid might
And soon the traitors see they can
No father turn our right

Tis midday and the sun beams fourth
On this bright New Year's day
And thousands find a Soldier's grave
In Tennessee's cold clay

Upon our center lines they come
They think to make them break
But where! the traitors find that they
Have made a sad mistake

Again that dreaded hour comes on
The cold ground is our bed
Another sleepless night have we
To spend among the dead.

And now I think of a happy home
Of friends so dear to me
And wonder if 'twill be my doom
To lie in Tennessee.
Again the light of day appears
The clouds obscure the sky
A drenching rain is pouring down
Upon us from on high
But still the battle is renewed
The bloody strife goes on
The rebels swear we shall not
Enter Murfreesboro town

The battle rages fiercely now
Along Stone River's shore
And hundreds of the traitors there
Fall to rise no more.
Now the traitors see they can
No longer hold their ground
And in dismay, confusion flee
From Murfreesboro town

Our glorious flag's now floating
Above the Court House tower
A warning to all traitors
Who seek that flag to lower
Oh God! forbid such men to live
In honor, wealth and fame
To spill the blood of honest hearts
To win themselves a name.

On picket lines at Stone river

By Milton Long

'Tis midnight and the twinkling stars
Shine brightly from on high
And not a cloud is shadowing now,
The war like southern sky,
I am stationed in a cedar grove
The picket post to stand
And listening for the stealthy tread
Of traitors close at hand.

Chorus

How many thousands gone to rest
We know that they are free
Their bodies mouldering in the dust
On the plains of Tennessee.

I see their burning camp fires now
Upon the distant hill
And hear the screech owl's dismal cry
And feel more lonely still
I hear the groans of wounded men
That still lie on the field
And many more my eyes can see
With life forever sealed

And thus far through the dismal night
These mournful sounds were

And many a patriot finds a grave
Beneath this Southern sky
The light of day doth now appear
All beautiful and bright

Our pocket is now engaged
With the rebel skirmishers
And now the order comes to us
"Fall on your reserves
Oh! wonder comes the rebel line
They're marching on our flank
Stand fast - brave ~~brave~~ boys our General cries
We'll soon thin out their ranks.

Our battery stationed on the right -
The Chicago Board of Trade,
Now opens fire on their ranks
And with them havoc made
And now the battle rages on
In all its horrid might
And soon the traitors see they can
No farther turn our right

'Tis mid-day and the sun beams forth
On this bright New Year's day
And thousands find a soldier's grave
In Tennessee's cold clay

Upon our center lines they come
They think to make them break
But there the traitors find that they
Have made a sad mistake

Again that dreaded hour comes on
The cold ground is our bed

And now I think of a happy home
Of friends so dear to me
And wonder if 'twill be my doom
To die in Tennessee.

Again the light of day appears
The clouds obscure the sky
A drenching rain is pouring down
Upon us from on high
But still the battle is renewed
The bloody strife goes on
The rebels swear we shall not
Enter Murfreesboro town

The battle rages fiercely now
Along Stone River's shore
And hundreds of the traitors there
Shall to rise no more.
Now the traitors see they can
No longer hold their ground
And in dismay, confusion flee
From Murfreesboro town

Our glorious flags now floating
Above the Court House tower
A warning to all traitors
Who seek that flag to lower
Oh God! forbid such men to live
In honor, with the and fame
To spill the blood of honest hearts
To win themselves a name.

By Martin Long, a Private of Co. B 81st Ind. Vol